

The Hope Within

Ink and Remoglue on Paper

I encountered a woman, alone and lost in thought as she was sitting and waiting - waiting for a ride. I felt very happy for her as I could tell she was also in anticipation of a new dawn - she was expecting a treasure. In fact, the expectation of the child should be everyone's joy. Knowing that the best future is in the hands of today's children, it should also be the responsibility of the society and every adult to contribute towards the nurturing and for the greatness of today's youth for a better tomorrow.
